

CAB Direct 4.0.2 release notes

Date of release: 26 September 2016

Additions

Added the functionality to enable download of records without the need to select or check records first, up to 1000 records at a time, whether from the Search Results page or from the Selected Records page.

Added the functionality to enable users to download a range of records from their numbered search results e.g. 1500-2500, whether from Search Results or from Selected Records.

Changes

Reordered the Browse drop down selection so that the option to browse for Author appears first, followed by Serials Cited, followed by Subject.

Made changes to the full record display when accessing content from a Google search to optimise the information displayed to users.

Changed the user instruction message in Advanced Search to let users know they should use quotes when searching for author names in Advanced Search, e.g. "Smith,D"

Optimized the site map index so that search engines are able to access content more efficiently.

Fixes

Fixed a bug which caused the term "and" to be highlighted when refining results after performing an empty search.

Fixed a bug which caused facet information not to display correctly on the Safari browser version v9.1.

Fixed links on the home page of CAB Direct for the CAB eBooks Archive so that users are directed to the correct site for the product.

Fixed a bug which caused the Serials Cited Browse list to appear empty when browsing by letter.
